PERSONAL STATEMENT

My name is Anthoulla Achilleos and I am a home season ticket holder and away regular. I was brought up within walking distance of White Hart Lane and surrounded by my spurs-loving family. I am a Tottenham Hotspur fanatic and believe that the Supporters' Trust is key to not only helping move the club forward but principally, to encourage its dialogue and valuation of Tottenham supporters as a community. I have a strong passion not only for supporting the team but discussing all issues concerning supporters on a regular basis. Supporter engagement is paramount for any football club; without its supporters there would be no club.

I have been a member of the THST for a few years now and have strongly supported its position on many items since, particularly matters addressing ticketing pricing. Another interest of mine is charity work and organising events, at university I was an events officer and assisted with planning socials and charity functions for our society. I would relish an opportunity to bring the skills I have delivered as an events officer to the community projects the THST takes part in. I also wish to offer the skills I have developed working as a healthcare professional such as problem solving, communication and working within a multidisciplinary team.

Finally, I want to encourage two-way communications between the club and support; with the advent of the Trust this seems to have improved, but I want to work towards maximising the membership and fan engagement with the THST so that we are seen even more to offer the credible and united voice of the fans. The role of the Board of the Supporters' Trust role is to carry out the wishes of its membership and, if elected, I will do my utmost to reflect their views and work hard to make them a reality.
